A few facts about Stuart City Commission:

- City Commission elections are non-partisan.
- Commissioners serve a four-year term.
- Commissioner candidates must be residents of the City for more than 12 months immediately preceding the election and must maintain residency throughout their term.
- City Commissioners face term limits: They may serve no more than 12 consecutive years. (This was voted on in 2022.)
- City Commissioners select a Mayor and Vice Mayor through a vote by the Commission every year in December.
- Commissioners are elected at large – they represent the entire city. Each of the five Commissioners is designated with a Group number: 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5. Using Group numbers provides a staggered structure for electing new Commissioners. Voters in the City of Stuart can vote for any of the city commission candidates, regardless of where the voter lives within city limits.
- First day of qualifying: June 8, 2026
Last day of qualifying: June 12
- Two commissioners – Campbell Rich & Eula Clark – are up for re-election in the 2026 midterms.
- Elected or appointed commissioners may not qualify as a candidate for another public office nor open a bank account to receive campaign contributions for another public office - whether it be state, district, county, or municipal - without resigning first from the city commissioner position. Christopher Collins resigned April 23 so he could run for County Commissioner, Group 2. He will run against Stacey Hetherington, if she decides to run for reelection.
